Accessing CanisiusGuest: Windows 7,8,10

Right-click on the wireless network icon in the system tray of your computer, near the clock in the lower-right corner. From the menu the pops up, left-click on “Open Network and Sharing Center”.

This will open the Network and Sharing Center. Click on the “Manage wireless networks” link in the upper-left corner of the window.

You should now see a window for managing your computer's wireless networks. Click on “Add” in the shaded bar near the top of the window. Then click on “Manually create a network profile”.

Enter the following options to create your profile:

- Network Name: CanisiusGuest
- Security Type: No authentication
- Encryption Type: None
- Security Key: [blank]

Make sure that the checkboxes for “Start this connection automatically” and “Connect even if the network is not broadcasting” are both selected. Click on “Next” to finish connecting.
