Faculty Resource Program (FRP): The Faculty Resource Program (FRP) is offered to full-time faculty who are interested in a phased retirement option. Eligibility to participate in the Faculty Resource Program will begin at age 60 and continue through the age of 76; however, the maximum term is three years. Please contact the Human Resources Office for the program details.
Tuition Waivers: Faculty members with full-time responsibilities may take one course per semester tuition-free, including summer session. Graduate level waivers will be taxable as income if the amount of tuition waived during the calendar year exceeds $5,250.00. Check with the Human Resources Department for current tax status before registering.

Tuition will be waived for undergraduate study, over and above the amount of all applicable state, federal, or private scholarship awards, for children to age 26 and spouses of full-time faculty members, based on the following schedule of full-time service:

Upon employment: 25%  1st anniversary: 50%  2nd anniversary: 75%  3rd anniversary: 100%

Prior years of full-time employment at institutions of higher education will be counted toward fulfilling the required service factor.

Children: Waivers for children are for undergraduate study only. All applicants are required to apply for all state and federal awards through the Financial Aid Office. Children must be a dependent of the faculty member, as defined by the Internal Revenue Service for the tuition to be considered non-taxable.

Spouses: Spouses of full-time faculty may have tuition waived for a maximum of two graduate courses per semester or up to a full load of undergraduate study per semester, based on the above schedule. Federal regulations require the College to report graduate waivers as taxable income to the faculty member and to withhold federal, state, and F.I.C.A. taxes.

In all cases, fees remain payable, but any financial aid award from agencies outside the College will be applied first to fees due and the balance to tuition.

Exclusions: Certain types of courses are excluded from tuition waivers. Any courses resulting in additional cash expense to the College will not be covered under the tuition waiver program.

If a faculty member dies, suffers 100% disability while in service to the College, or retires, the surviving dependent children and spouse continue to be eligible for these waivers.

Dependent Exchange Program: Canisius College participates with several other Colleges and universities in the United States in programs whereby dependent children of eligible faculty members may apply to enroll in one of the other institutions on an exchange basis. Enrollment at another institution is not guaranteed; the dependent child needs to be accepted by the other institution and also by its exchange program. Participating institutions can be viewed at www.tuitionexchange.org. Contact the Financial Aid Office for complete information.

Adoption Benefit: Full-time faculty who have completed 12 months of full-time employment are eligible to utilize the adoption benefit. The benefit provides reimbursement up to $2,000 for eligible adoption expenses and 3 paid Adoption Days to be used during the adoption process. Contact the Human Resources Department regarding pending adoptions and for additional details.

EAP (Employee Assistance Program): Integrated Behavioral Health provides an Employee Assistance Program to the college. The program provides confidential consultation and counseling for a wide range of personal and family problems. The program provides three free face to face consultations per year.
