Online and Hybrid Courses: Self Assessment

Are you ready for online learning?

Online learning requires self-discipline and time management. It is ideal for those that cannot attend regularly scheduled classes, or those that don’t have a specific time slot in their schedule to fit in another F2F class. This self-assessment will help you determine whether online learning may be a right fit for you, and will help you better understand what is expected of you as an online learner.

Begin the self-assessment by clicking here.

Note: The assessment will open up in a new tab or window. Once you’ve completed the assessment, close it and return to this window.

Next Step: Resources for Learning Online