Adobe Creative Cloud for Faculty and Staff computers

Overview

Our campus license for Adobe software has changed. We now have a new way of managing Adobe software for our faculty and staff computers on campus. This new method is based on named users utilizing your Canisius email address to create an Adobe ID. Please follow the instructions below if you wish to be able to use any of the Adobe Creative Cloud software. This includes Acrobat Pro, Photoshop, Illustrator, InDesign, Premiere, etc...

Please note - If you currently have a campus license for any Adobe Creative Cloud software, it will be expiring by mid-November. Your software will stop working. If you wish to continue to use it you must sign up for the new licenses as directed below. Software older such as CS6 should not be affected by this change. Named user licenses are NOT for use on your personal computers. Faculty and Staff can purchase work-at-home licenses of software available from the Kivuto store.

Several new features will be available including:

- Adobe Portfolio
- 20GB online storage for collaboration and asset management
- Additional font libraries and stock images
- Web content
- Integration of the mobile and desktop experience on the Adobe platform

This new licensing model does NOT apply to student labs or make software available for students personal computers. Students using lab computers will NOT be able to take advantage of the additional features of the Creative Cloud such as online storage and fonts. Alternatively, students looking to purchase software for their personally-owned computers, should visit the Kivuto store.

Unfortunately we do not have enough named licenses for adjuncts. If there is Adobe software that you need as an adjunct we will install it on a campus owned computer in your department for your use. Please email helpdesk@canisius.edu with these requests as well. If you wish to purchase for use at home please refer to the Kivuto Store for a discounted price.

How do I request a Canisius license?
