Safe Sender List

The new mail server has a built-in spam-detection engine to help minimize the amount of junk mail that reaches your inbox. Unfortunately, sometimes the filter proves to be too aggressive, and accidentally marks legitimate emails as "junk." The procedure below outlines how to tell the mail server that mail from certain address (or domains) is safe, and to not flag it as junk.